

1949-1968 HISTORY

Presented by the Senior Classes From the Yearbooks

George Washington Carver Regional High School

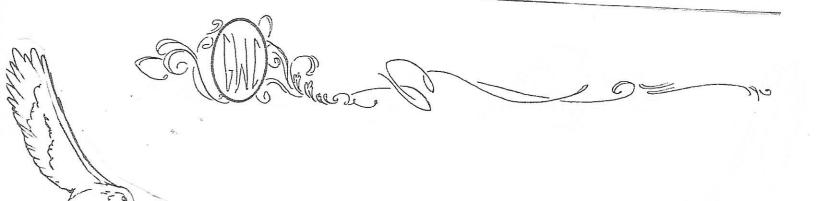

THE HISTORY OF GEORGE WASHINGTON CARVER REGIONAL HIGH SCHOOL TAKEN FROM THE YEAR BOOKS 1949-1967

CARVER HAWKS

	Graduated	8th Grade	Percent
Class of 1949 written by a Culpeper Student	62	No	History
Class of 1950 Unknown Writer.	51	No	History
Class of 1951 No yearbook	80	No	History
Class of 1952 Written by Catherine Dennis	89	179	49%
Class of 1953 Unknown Writer	84	83	101%
Class of 1954 Unknown Writer	88	189	46%
Class of 1955 No Yearbook No History	18	No	History
Class of 1956 Written by Martha Harris & Laura Watson	56	170	31% 1st 12th grade Class
Class of 1957 By Carnell Carter, Sylvia Arrington & Lilian Freeman	ı 81	172	47%
Class of 1958 By Louise Gray & Barbara Wallace	96	255	37% The Largest Class
Class of 1959 Unknown Writer	94	200	47%
Class of 1960 By Shelby Tree & Shirley Arrington	83	203	40%
Class of 1961 No History	69
Class of 1962 No History	73
Class of 1963 By Alice Morton & Willa Stewart	83
Class of 1964 Pearl Robinson	68
Class of 1965	90	225	39%
Class of 1966 No History	79
Class of 1967 No History	79
Class of 1968 Integration –Student stayed at Carver	11

The Data taken from Yearbooks By GWCAA-Historian/Les Daniel

Washington, DC ~ Maryland ~ Pennsylvania ~ Virginia Culpeper, Orange, Rappahannock & Madison Counties

GWCAA Class of 1949 Yearbook History

Class History

of whom had died. A pitiful sight it was when all of us, surrounded by new things, stumbled up the steps of Culpeper Training School, which was to be our harbor for three years.

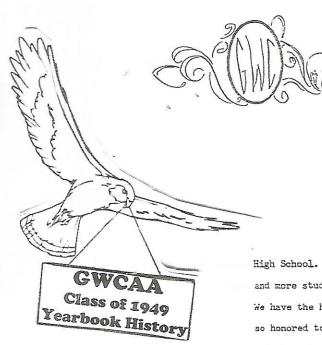

It was hard to become adjusted to this new life, since our three month's voyage had been so carefree. The individuals who were already there, did not help our lot any by the constant razzing which we underwent. This first year, however, sharpened our determinations to stick it out to the end.

Our second year found us more prepared to cope with the changes which were to be ours. Again our party suffered a terrific epidemic, and several of them died. In spite of this lost, we toiled onward with hope in our hearts. By this time, there was talk of our setting out for a new harbor. Seemingly that the old one was well worn and we would surely need a new one. Of course, we rejoiced in this news, and at the same time our hearts were sad. Our Training School meant so much to us until we hated to give it up. We had spent endless hours preparing our work for various teachers, and in general adapting ourselves to its ways and means of life. We loved it dearly! C.T.S. had found a place in our hearts.

Our Junior year we actually knew that this was to be our last year within the beloved walls of C.T.S. We feverishly worked for our Junior-Senior Prom. We tried to make it the most gala affair ever to take place within those walls. Everything was tops and a good time was had by all.

As this year ended, all of us boarded our vessel, by this time severly wounded, and set sail for this harbor known as Carver Regional High School. True! This school has better facilities, more teachers and more students, and we rejoice. We have many things to rejoice for. We have the honor of being the first fruits from Carver and have been so honored to lay the foundation of future graduating classes here.

Our four years have been measured by much wandering and adjustments.

Sure we are tired, worn, but much wiser individuals. Again we are ready to set sail but this time on a much greater sea. What lies beyond these waters can only be told by fate.

Again we are refueling. Our ship is ready to take off to a land of adulthood. Great things live ahead for some of us, and for others we enter uncertain waters.

Most of our crew with which we started has held out to the end, and others have fallen by the wayside. We are proud to say:

"The race is not given to the swift or to the strong, But to he who holds out to the end."

Jean Jackson Elizabeth White

100

5449

Pri dig ille cur vilaterii)

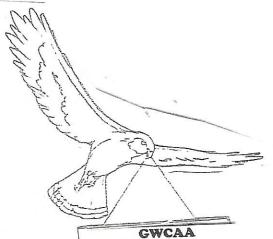

The history of our class is a strange, unusual one which has no definite source of its origin. The children started the beginning of their high school education in many different places. Some began in Madison and Orange, and others in Culpeper and Rappahannock. Carver is like a tree which has sprung from the roots of different sources.

The graduates of this year have had the pleasure of attending Carver High for two years. We entered Carver, our new school in our Junior year, one that we will never forget. We found that our Junior year was not as easy as the previous years, but we were not discouraged; we worked harder. We struggled through the year, and when spring came, we were looking foward to our big event, the Junior-Senior Prom, the first to be given at Carver.

We were egar to enter our Senior year. We entered with great courage and the determination to work hard.

Fortunately we had only a few to drop by the way-side, discouraged and beaten. The others continued to strive, looking forward to graduation in May.

We are happy to graduate but we hate departing from our dear friends. We must go on further with the hope of succeeding.

GWCAA Class of 1951 NO Yearbook

Class History

Class of 1952 Carbook History

On October the first, in the year of nineteen forty-eight, one hundred and seventyline ambitious Freshmen entered the spacious new building of the George Washington

Larver Regional High School. The step from elementary school to high school was frightening enough-but our class, the first Freshmen group to enter the newly erected building, felt, perhaps subconsciously, that our debt to ourselves as well as to society was even greater.

Along the way some of us failed; that is, all of us were not able to even complete our Freshmen year. But those of us remaining were well represented on the honor roll, in the choir, the dramatic club, and the band. In our present Senior class we have in our advanced band James Porter, Margaret Price, Maria Lewis, Marshall Jones, Roberta Young, Lucille Ferris, Bertha Walker, Hebert Young, Beaure Jackson and Evelyn Jenkins (majorette). In our choral group we have Ruth Phillips, Marshall Jones, Mary Colbert, Virginia Christian, Bertha Walker, Maria Lewis, Roberta Young, Evelyn Jenkins, Beaure Jackson, Catherine Dennis, and Annette Lovell.

During that year several members of our class appeared in a pageant that was written and directed by Mrs. Carrie Michie, a faculty member. These class members were Hugh Ferguson, John Gales, Richard Slaughter, Cynthia Smith, Thelma Mickey, Deloris Shirley and Catherine Dennis.

The Sophomore year is often considered the up-hill year, so we continued to strive. Sometimes the going was "tough", but with the aid and guidance of our instructors we happily became Juniors.

As Juniors we were represented in dramatics by Johnnie Yaeger, Iris Mathews, John Barbour, McKinly Dennis, Robert Johnson, Polly Shelton, Richard Slaughter, Valma Kilby, Mable Miller, and Havanna Johnson, who appeared in the presentations of "Little Miss Somebody" and "Society Rides Again." Valma Kilby protrayed the main character in "Society Rides Again".

We were not forgotten in the realm of athletics, for that year we won the intramural basketball award.

Our own Bertha Walker and James Porter represented us in an interracial talent contest. They won first and second prizes respectively and are yet outstanding students in music.

This, our triumphant Senior year is before us, and the sixty-nine of us are continuing to aspire. Humbly we take a backward glance, for we know our true History is yet to be written.

Catherine Dennis

GWCAA Class of 1953 Sarbook Ristory

CLASS HISTORY

Dreams do come true! Many years ago (four to be exact) there came to Carver High Sizcol a new group of freshmen. For a time confusion, chaos and catastrophe reigned Elimene as students dashed madly about trying to get acclimated to their new surroundings.

We returned as sophomores in September, however, the year was uneventful for us as we even lost the doubtful blessing of the notoriety that we enjoyed as "froshes."

In 1951, many determined juniors returned to carry on the responsibilities of the second highest order in the school. Many of us began to take a more active part in extra second highest order in the school. Many of us began to take a more active part in extra second represented in all activities previously. In the choir we had Audrey Dennis, Ruth Banks, Delois Hackley, Barbara Wise, Joseph Carter, exterie Turner, Cormora Rector, Claria Thompson, William Hume. In the varsity club we were represented by Eleanor Jameson, Lois Fleshmon, Peggie Washington, Martha Carter, Daisy largenter, John Weston, Robert Porter, James Yates, Charles Monroe, Wilbur Edwards, lafayette Burros, James Slaughter, Earl Scott, Jack Johnson and David Reid. It was the ling our junior year that Carver had its first football team.

Aaron Fletcher, Robert Beckwith, William Hume, John Carpenter, Temple Ficklin, and efforce Turner proved a great asset to the band. Agnes Winkie, Audrey Dennis and Lois Fleshmon did a wonderful job as majorettes. During our junior year, a standard class-ring chosen by the student body. Our class is the first to have the privilege of wearing larver's first standard ring.

Then came the long awaited Junior-Senior prom which was held to the pleasure of all partook of its merriment.

Again in September eighty-three seniors returned to enjoy the fruits of complete superiority. The main socail functions included the senior play- "Our Town" and the prom.

We now end an era at Carver which instilled within us principles and attitudes of thought and conduct which will motivate us and steer our energies into an increased responsibility to affect service to society. Our stay at Carver has been enriched with experience.

We shall esteem and cheerish these experiences and cling to them as precious moments.

CIASS HISTORY

In September 1950, 189 eager freshmen entered the doors of this

GWCAA Class of 1954 Sarbook History

institute which was relatively young at the time. Our activities as a class were very few. We only wrapped the Maypole on Fields Day. We were sponsored that year by Mrs. Anglin; Mrs. Washington; Mr. Black and our own hard-working Miss Scott. The next two years were almost the same. We were represented in many activities as we are now but still we had done nothing extra-ordinary. During our sophomore year we were sponsered by Miss Scott; Mr. Jones; Mr. Black; and Mrs. Anglin. In the junior year we were sponsered by Mrs. Jackson; Miss Reed and Miss Scott. We sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom in our Junior year. It was a great suscess with the aid of our sponsers. Im sure that everyone enjoyed this event, especially the juniors who had worked so hard. We were happy as juniors, but we yearned for the final step...to become a senior. Our dreams of four years came true in September 1953. we were over-joyed but we realized that during our upward struggle we had lost more than half of our friends and classmates. There were only 92 of us. We are well reprisented in the activities by members of this class. Choir: Lucille Richards, Doris Clore, William Humes, Martha Roe, Leroy Hill, Laynie Beck, William Arrington, Annie Ficklin, William Taylor, Rachel Gaines, June Davis, Virginia Davis, Mildred Williams, Sherman Williams, Shirley Jackson, Jean Hill, Dorothy Gordon, Audrey Band; Laynie Beck, Leroy Hill, William Humes, William Arrington, William Taylor, Annie Ficklin, Doris Clore, Irene Johnson, Mary Jackson, Louise Thomas, Lois Gibbs, Alberta Jackson, Fred Kilby, Douglas Carter. We are also proud of our majorette, Francis Ferris, and our leader of the band, Audrey Acty.

Acty, Dorothy Jones, Louise Thomas, Alberta Jackson, Fred Kilby.

N.F.A.: Solomon Williams, William Gray, Marcellous Frye, Charles Gentry, Adelbert Triplett, Thomas Carpenter, Eugene Ferguson, William Arrington, and Dixie Taylor.

Speech and Dramatics: Audrey Acty, Joanne Jones, Alberta Jackson, Eula Young, Kate Pendleton, Irena Johnson, Barbara Johnson, Lula Taylor, Elenor Chandler.

Basketball: Bessie Robinson, Martha Roe, Lilliam Brock, Shirley Jackson, Audrey Acty, Dorothy Gordon, Marie Jackson, Doris Clore, Franciss Ferris, Rosa Dade, Homer Brown, Joseph Weston, Homer Smith, Randolph Christian, John Avery.

Football: John Avery, Randolph Christian, Homer Smith, Joseph Weston James Hill, and Morris Smith.

Patrols: William Yates, Sherman Williams, Carroll Apperson, Barbara Johnson, Fred Kilby, Thomas Hunter, Francis Ferris, Mildred Williams, Douglas Carter, James Hill, Joseph Weston.

French: Leroy Hill, Joyce Duvall, Jean Hill, Mae Lewis, Francis Ferris, Audrey Acty, John Avery, Carrie Hayden, Fred Kilby and Laura Gillerson.

Pep: Audrey Acty, Dorothy Gordon, Marie Jackson, Rosa Dade, and Doris Clore. We are really proud of our active seniors.

Our four years here have been "The best years of our lives". We wish to insure our teachers that all of their work has not been in vain.

节所

r

Ţ

NO Yearbook

Class of 1956

THE CLASS HISTORY '51-'56

On an exhilarating day in September in the year of fifty-one, approximately ninety-six girls and seventy-four boys entered the doors of Carver from the four respective counties: Orange, Madison, Culpeper and Rappahannock. We, the one hundred and seventy eager students just out of elementary school and with the glorious feeling of summer still lingering in our system began our first sober and solid era of high school life. Because of our eagerness and intelligence, it wasn't very difficult for us to settle down and become adjusted to the never-ending study and concentration that is yet

The many rules and customs that were new to us will never be forgotten. Our class was the first to begin the five-year plan, and during our first year we were classified as Underclassmen. Our sponsors, Mr. C. H. Finlay, Mr. O. W. Thomas, Mrs. S. B. Mason, and Mrs. Eva Jackson, were very cooperative and showed much patience toward us in overcoming our many obstacles during our eighth grade year. The term of fifty-one passed quickly and we began our Freshman or first year in high school realizing then we had to buckle down to work. Our sponsors were Mr. C. H. Finlay, Mr. O. W. Thomas, Mrs. S. B. Mason, and Miss K. Tasker.

During our Freshman year our class was well represented in the various activities, such as Band, Pep Club, Majorette Club, Handicraft Club, Dramatics, Choir, Girls' and Boys' Varsity team, Camera Club, New Farmers of America, New Homemakers of America, Patrol System, both school and bus, Science Club, Needle Club, Library Club, Baseball, Softball and

A year of pleasure and hard work was the Sophomore year. During this year we were sponsored by Mr. C. H. Finlay, Mr. O. W. Thomas and Mr. S. B. Newton. For the first time, we, the Sophomores were allowed to attend the Junior-Senior Prom, a big affair sponsored by the everworking Juniors. Our boys showed excellency in the Intramural Basketball tournament

Because of the decrease in our-number of fellow students whom we had lost along the wayside, we had only two homerooms, which were sponsored by Mr. C. H. Finlay and Mrs. V. P. Blair, respectively. This memorable year will always linger in our minds because of the great excitement of sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom, which required great effort and patience on the part of the Juniors and sponsors.

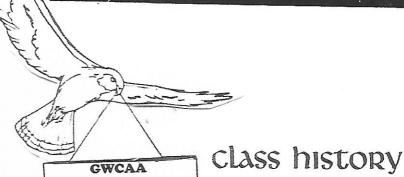

Our Senior year will always be remembered because of the hard work and pleasure shared by each of us. Fortunate are we to have Mr. C. H. Finlay and Mrs. V. P. Blair as our sponsors again.

Nearing the completion of our high school education, we have high anticipations of becoming the leaders of tomorrow. We sincerely think that we have done our utmost in achieving a portion of our goal, and we are striving

Martha Harris

Laura Watson

Class of 1957

Yearbook History

Carnell Carter Sylvia Arrington

Lullian Freeman

September third, nineteen hundred fifty-two, was an exciting day for one hundred seventy-two enthusiastic young eighth graders who entered the welcoming doors of Carver Regional High School with minds open for knowledge and open hearts eager for friendship. We, the one hundred seventy-two students, were from the four counties: Culpeper, Orange, Madison, and Rappahannock.

Our entering high school began a new era of life for us, but we soon became adjusted to our new environment of more complex studies. Our great desire for learning and our clear young minds made it easy for us to grasp the wealth of information presented to us by our instructors. We shall never forget the many rules and customs by which we had to abide.

During our eighth grade year, we were classified as underclassmen. Our sponsors that year were Mrs. M. J. Anglin, Mrs. V. P. Blair, Mr. F. I. Hawkins, and Mrs. C. W. Michie. They showed much interest and patience in helping us with our complicated problems. We did not take part in many activities during this year. However, a few of us participated in such activities as Choir, Dramatics, Camera Club, Industrial Arts, Safety Patrols, New Farmers of America, New Homemakers of America, and the Handicraft Club.

Before we realized it, we were ready to begin our Freshman year in high school. That year our sponsors were Mrs. S. B. Mason, Mrs. M. J. Anglin, Mrs. V. P. Blair, Miss M. W. Hooker, and Mr. F. N. Johnson. Our Freshman year found us energetically engaged in a variety of activities. It was during this year that the boys and this class won the school's Intramural Basketball Championship. We deemed this a great honor to become champions at such an early stage in high school.

In our Sophomore year, our sponsors were as follows: Mrs. M. J. Anglin, Mrs. S. B. Mason, and Miss M. W. Hooker. Nothing unusual happened during this year, except that the girls of this class won the Intramural Basketball Tournament. Although we found it necessary to study hard and keep up with our scholastic studies, the Sophomore year was, indeed, an enjoyable year for us.

The Junior year was a success socially as well as scholastically. This was one of our most important and exciting years at Carver. We worked hard that year to achieve the goal of sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom. We do not hesitate to say that this goal would not have been achieved without the sincere help of our instructors: Mrs. M. J. Anglin, Mrs. E. M. Tomlinson, and Miss D. L. Barrett.

How proud we are to say that at last we have reached the most important year of high school, our Senior Year! We are fortunate to have again Mrs. E. M. Tomlinson and Mrs. M. J. Anglin as our instructors. By the time that we had reached our Senior year, our enrollment had dropped from one hundred and seventy-two to seventy-eight. Because of this great decrease, we needed only two homerooms. This year will always linger in the hearts of us, the seventy-eight students. We are now ready to take another step forward into life with heads high and our minds ready to accomplish many hard tasks that may come before us. Some of us will strive to further our education and become leaders of tomorrow, and some of us will make use of what we have; but whatever we should do, we shall never forget the happy days here at Carver.

We, the Seniors of nineteen fifty-six and fifty-seven, wish to assure the teachers who have taught us through the five long years that their work will be rewarding to us. We wish to show our appreciation to our teachers for all they have done for us, and we wish them all the luck and happiness possible throughout the years to come.

CLASS HISTORY

Louise Gray Barbara Wallace

with the first of the second state of the second second second

September third, nineteen hundred fifty-three, was an exciting day for two hundred forty-five enthusiatic, young eighth graders who enrolled in Carver High School with spen minds for wisdom, and hearts open for friendship. We, the two hundred forty-five students, were from Culpeper, Orange, Madison and Rappahannock counties.

We spent the first year exploring under the leadership of Mr. Hawkins, Miss Brown, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Michie, Mr. Goodman, Mrs. Jackson the first semester and Miss Mealy the second semester. We did not participate in many school activities, because we had not become adjusted to the school.

During our freshman year at Carver, we became more interested in our school work and more co-operative in school activities. We had for our sponsors that year: Mrs. Michie, Mrs. Hooper, Miss Mealy, Mr. Haw-kins and Mr. Goodman.

We participated in such activities as: Handicraft Club, N.H.A. Club, Library Club, N.F.A., Choir and Band. It was during this year that the girls won the intermurial basketball championship game. We were thrilled and enthusied about winning at such an early stage in high school.

Our Sophomore year rolled around so fast that we could hardly believe that it was our third year at Carver. Again, Mr. Hawkins, Miss Mealy, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Michie, and Mr. Kearney were our sponsors. We participated mainly in such activities as: Newspaper Club, Camera Club, Choir, Band, and Basketball. We were again the basketball champions. This made us very happy and proud indeed.

Our Junior year arrived at last. We were very excited because we had to sponsor the Junior-Senior Prom, which took a lot of work, but we enjoyed every minute of it. Besides sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom, we also sponsored a baby contest, which was very successful. That year we worked harder than ever because we were looking forward to becoming seniors.

We were again looked upon as champions, for the girls and boys both won the intermurial basketball championship game which made us feel that we had succeeded in accomplishing one of the goals we had strived for. Our sponsors that year were: Mr. Hawkins, Miss Mealy, Mrs. Hooper and Mr. Tomlinson.

At last we have finally reached an important milestone in our lives; our senior year with only ninety-one of us continuing to aspire for knowledge. Again we are under the splendid leadership of Mr. Hawkins, and two new sponsors: Miss Moore, and Mr. Poole.

Taking a backward glance, we realize that we have gained many worthy ends here at Carver which will long linger in the hearts of us, the ninety-one students.

We are now ready to take another important step into the future. With heads erect, and well adjusted minds we feel that we are fortified to meet many of life's challenging situations. Many of us will strive to advance ourselves educational and become great leaders of tomorrow, while others will cling to that which we have; but, whatever the tide, we shall always remember to strive, "Ever onward, up-ward."

Class History

September first, nineteen hundred fifty-four, was a day of joy and excitement for two hundred eager young students who entered the doors of Carver Regional High School with open minds and hearts for learning, and eager for friendship. We, the two hundred students, were from the four counties: Culpeper, Madison, Orange, and Rappahannock.

Commencing high school began a new era in our young lives, but because of our eagerness for knowledge, we soon became adjusted to our new environment and surroundings. We found great joy in taking the exploratory courses that we had in order to help us decide what courses we should take in our later years that would best enable us to realize our goals for the future. We shall never forget the many new rules and customs by which we had to abide.

During our eighth grade year we were under the guidance of Miss Alease P. Scott, Mr. Frank N. Johnson, Mrs. Eleanor Thompson, and Mrs. Ethel Anderson. They showed much interest and patience in helping us with our many problems.

Before we realized it, we were ready for our Freshman year of high school. After our exploratory year we were really ready for the neverending study of our more complex studies that were required of us. Our sponsors were Miss Alease P. Scott, Mr. Frank N. Johnson, Mrs. Eleanor Thompson, Mr. James Mailey and Miss Louise Taylor. This year our class was represented in the various activities, such as Band, New Homemakers of America, New Framers of America, Camera Club, Choir, Football and Baseball.

Nothing unusual happened in our Sophomore year. Our class still participated in the various activities. Although we found it difficult and necessary to keep up with our scholastic studies, it was, indeed, an enjoyable year for us. Our sponsors were Miss Louise Taylor, Mr. James Mailey. Miss alease Scott, and Mrs. Eleanor Thompson.

an enjoyable year for us. Our sponsors were Miss Louise Taylor, Mr. James Mailey, Miss Alease Scott, and Mrs. Eleanor Thompson.

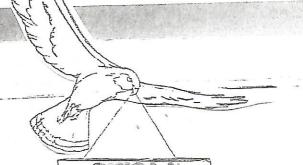

A year of truly hard work and pleasure was our Junior year. This will be remembered because of the thrill and excitement of sponsoring the Junior-Senior Prom. We had to work very hard in achieving this goal, but it wouldn't have been achieved without the sincere help and guidance of our sponsors, Miss Alease Scott, Miss Louise Taylor, and Mrs, Eleanor Thompson. Our boys were finally successful in winning the Intramural Volleyball and Basketball Tournaments.

At last we can proudly say that we have reached the most important year of our high school education, our Senior year. We are, indeed, fortunate to have again Miss Alease Scott, and a new sponsor, Mr. Harry I. D. Williams, as our sponsors. However, by the time we reached our Senior year, our enrollment had dropped from two hundred to eighty-eight. As we are nearing the completion of our high school education, this, the Senior year will be remembered most and will linger in our minds longest because of the hard struggled to the top. We are now ready to take another step forward into life, with heads high and minds ready to face the many hard trials that are yet to come. Some of us will strive to further our education, and some of us will make good use of what we have.

We sincerely believe that we have done our best in achieving a part of our goal.

We, the Seniors of fifty-eight and fifty-nine, wish to assure the teachers that their work through the five long years with us will be very rewarding to us. We wish to show our appreciation to our teachers by becoming better citizens of tomorrow. May luck and happiness be with you always!

GWCAA Class of 1959 Yearbook History

GWCAA Class of 1960 Yearbook History

Class History

September fifth, nineteen hundred and fifty five, approximately one hundred and seven girls and ninety-six boys entered the doors of Carver from the four respective counties: Culpeper, Madison, Orange and Rappanhannock. We, the one hundred and seven girls and ninety six boys have looked forward to entering Carver for seven long years.

This new school offered us a different environment with exciting events, customs, and numerous educational challenges. Among these were: the many extracurricular activities, a thirty minute lunch period, no recess and the opportunity to pursue subjects of our choice. Our patient sponsors were: Mr. Word, Mr. Compton, Mrs. Cunningham, Miss White and Mr. Williams.

After a tiring but joyous year of pains and problems the majority of us were promoted to the ninth grade. In our freshman year our class was represented in the various activities: band, choir, New Homemakers of America, New Farmers of America, football, basketball, and baseball. Again our patient sponsors were: Mr. Word, Mr. Compton, Mrs. Cunningham, Miss White and Mr. Williams.

Nothing unusual happened in our sophomore year. Our class continued participating in the various activities, but it was during our sophomore year that we found it difficult and necessary to keep up our scholastic studies, because by then the majority of us had begun to think more seriously about the future. Our sponsors were: Mr. Word, Mr. Compton, Mrs. Cunningham and Mr. Williams.

Our Junior year was a great one. Our boys were successful in winning the Intramural Basketball Tournament, and we, the Juniors, sponsored a Junior Class Night. It was a great success and Annette Howard was crowned Miss Junior. Then we were faced with another affair, the Junior-Senior Prom, which we had looked forward to ever since we were in the eighth grade. This affair was a great success also. We were under the guidance of Mr. Compton, Mr. Finlay, Miss Jenkins and Mrs. Parker.

Our senior year will always be remembered because of the many interesting events along with the many unforgettable moments shared by each of us. Unfortunately we were deprived of one of our sponsors, Mr. Compton; however, we are grateful for having Miss Jenkins, Mrs. Parker and Mr. Finlay as our sponsors.

Approaching the completion of our high-school education, the majority of us have many ideas of becoming leaders of tomorrow. We sincerely think that we have done our utter-most in accomplishing a portion of our destiny and we will strive to get ahead in the future.

Shelby Tyree Shirley Arrington Th.

Es[.] Ameri

D

Er Davis

0

A

S. Phila

> r sistar

> > J Shell

آ بد Jame

ful y

,

mer

wid

bee

her sp(

GWCAA Class of 1961 NO HISTORY

CLASS HISTORY

The history of this class is most unusual, in that the members have experienced various educational back grounds. Lend me your ears while I briefly relate to you the story of our class.

The graduates of this class entered Carver High School in 1959. Our understanding and helpful sponsors were Miss Billups, Mr. Wallace, Mr. Poole, and Mr. Evans. We looked forward to entering Carver for seven long years. This was an exciting year, for it was filled with both happiness and frustration.

After a tiring but joyous year of pains and problems, the majority of us were promoted to the ninth grade. In our freshman year the class was represented in the various activities: Band, Choir, N.F.A., N.H.A., football, baseball, and the Student Council. Our sponsors were Mrs. Cobbins, Miss Jones, Miss Reavis, Miss Billups, and Mr. Wallace.

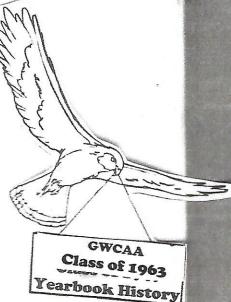

Nothing unusual happened in our sophomore year. The class continued to participate in the various activities. However, it was during the sophomore year that many of our classmates ended their formal education. Still, the rest of us traveled on toward our educational goals. Our sponsors were Mrs. Wright, Miss Jones, and Mr. Wallace.

The Junior year was a great one. We were faced with a big event, the Junior-Senior Prom, which we had looked forward to ever since we were in the eighth grade. On the night of the Prom, which was May 4, 1962, Gloria Frye was crowned "Miss Junior." That occasion will always be one of the highlights of our high school careers. We were under the guidance of Mrs. Wright, Miss Baldwin, and Mr. Wallace.

Our senior year has been the greatest and most rewarding of them all. The class takes pride in the scholastic attainment of Clarence Washington, William Lewis, Franklin Taliaferro, Pauline Minor, and John Holmes. In sports this year, John Minor, Thomas Wilson, and Paul Arrington have excelled. Thus, the class has realized more fully the importance of an education and the necessity of living each day as if it were our last.

As we approach the completion of our high school education, the majority of us have many ideas for becoming leaders of tomorrow. We sincerely think that we have done our utmost to accomplish a portion of our destiny, and we shall strive to conquer more in the future.

by: Alice Morton Willa Stewart

THE CLASS HISTORY

In 1959, we, the students of the 1963-64 graduating class of Carver High, started out as frightened, but excited eighth graders. At that time Carver seemed like a gigantic place, but as the years progressed, it seemed more and more like a second home. Since we were only beginners at that time, our activities were very limited. Our eighth grade sponsors were Mr. Poole, Mr. Crossling, Mrs. Hubb, Miss Perkins, Mr. Billups, and Miss Hubbard.

Our ninth and tenth grades went by very rapidly. Of course we began thinking seriously about our great junior year, for we were to sponsor the "Junior-Senior Prom." These were indeed two hard-working years. We began sponsoring different activities which we felt were of interest to the student body and at the same time were beneficial to us. We had raffles, sold candy, sponsored trips for our students with the ball teams, and sold newspapers. Our ninth grade sponsors were Mr. Crossling, Mrs. Rempson, Mrs. Michie, Miss Perkings, and Mrs. Hubb. Our tenth grade sponsors were Mrs. Michie, Mrs. Rempson, Mr. Cheston, and Miss Perkins.

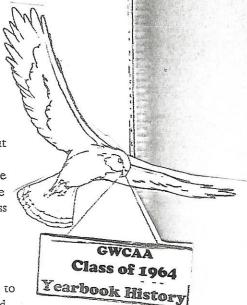

Then came the eleventh year. We experienced both happiness and sadness in this year. Happiness, in that we were fortunate with our prom. We were very thrilled to see how appreciative the seniors were. We had for our theme "Some Enchanted Evening." We were very thankful to have the "Rocking Riffs" perform for us on that night. We also crowned "Miss Junior," Merle Humes. Everyone had a grand time. As is stated above, we experienced sadness this year. At the end of the school term our beloved Mrs. Michie retired. We knew that we would greatly miss her. So many of us had anticipated her being with us throughout our years at Carver. Our sponsors were Mrs. Michie, Miss Perkins, and Mr. Cheston. On a whole we were quite happy as juniors, but we were all dreaming of becoming "big-time seniors."

Then on August, 1963, our dreams came true. We entered Carver overjoyed. We realized, however, that we had lost a large number of our classmates throughout our upward struggle. This year proved to be a busy one also. Everyone began making plans for that great day of graduation. We were proud to crown Eudora Ware, "Miss Homecoming" for the years 1963-64. We only had two sponsors. They were Miss Perkins and Mr. Cheston, who we feel did a tremendous job as our advisors.

Throughout our dear years at Carver, members of our class participated in the bank, FBLA, NHA, NHS, NFA, Library Club, Newspaper Staff, Choir, and other various activities offered at Carver High.

Now that Carver has become "a thing of the past" as far as our education goes, we shall never forget it as long as we live. When we become nurses, doctors, teachers, secretaries, etc. each of us shall say, "Thanks to Carver and its dear teachers for helping to make me what I am."

by Pearl Robinison

CLASS HISTORY

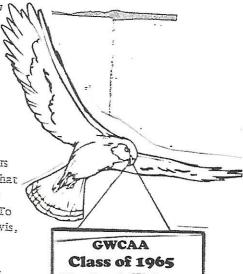

In 1960, we, the senior graduating class of 1964-65 of Carver, entered the corridors of Carver as frightened and bewildered eighth graders. There were 228 of us enrolled that first year. At that time Carver seemed like an enormous and complex building, but as the year progressed we relaxed and began to concentrate seriously on our schoolwork. To help us make this transition were our sympathetic and understanding sponsors--Miss Reavis, Mrs. Walters, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. Harvey, and Miss Taylor.

Our minth and tenth grade years passed very swiftly. We participated in the various extracurricular activities. By then Carver had taken on the appearance of a second home to us. During those two years we spousored different activities, such as school dances, cake raffles, basketball games and selling Journal and Guides to raise funds for the Junior-Senior Prom we were to give our Junior year. Our minth grade sponsors were Miss Thomas, Mis. Parker, Mis. Harvey, Miss Keith, and Mr. Finlay. Unfortunately, during our sophomore year we lost two of our best sponsors but we were lucky enough to retain Miss Keith, Mrs. Parker, and Mrs. Harvey.

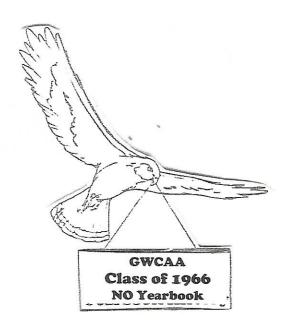

During our Junior year we worked long hours to make the Junior-Senior Prom an unforgettable experience for our departing seniors. We had for our theme "With a Song in My Heart". The Rocking Riffs provided the music for us that night. We also crowned Joyce Ruffner Miss Junior. Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Parker, and Mr. Finlay were our kind and helpful sponsors. Although we were quite happy as Junions, we were overjoyed at the thought

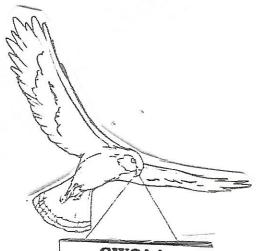

In 1964 we entered Carver for our final year. Almost from the start plans were made for that great day of graduating. We also worked wholeheartedly to produce a good yearbook worthy of our many years at Carver. We were proud and firtilled to have Sylvia Beasley crowned Miss Homecoming for 1964. Our advisors were Mrs. Harvey, Mrs. Parker, and Mr. Finlay, to whom we owe our deepest appreciation and gratitude for their

Throughout our many years at Carver we have left a large number of our former classimates behind in our struggle to reach the top. But those of us who will march down the aisle, hold our heads proud and straight and gaze into the future. Carver will always have an inspiration, moral, social, and memorable effect upon our hearts and minds and the path we choose to take.

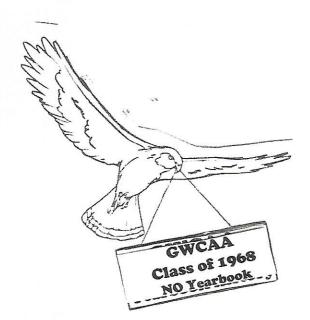

Yearbook History

GWCAA Class of 1967 Yearbook History

•

Daughters of the American Revolution

THIS CERTIFIES THAT

Edna Russell Josepher

having been selected as the GOOD CITIZEN of the Yeary Washington Carnes

High School for the current year, through her demonstration during her entire course of the qualities of Dependability, Leadership, Service and Patriotism, is hereby awarded this

DAR GOOD CITIZENS CERTIFICATE
Signed and awarded this sufth day of June 1968

adile Ext Sollion Mary & Ottober

SENIORS

1968

BANKS, CORA IDEL

- * FERGUSON, PATRICIA ANN GALBREATH, PATRICIA BRANDON GRAY, ELIZABETH BERTHA GRAY, MADELINE HENDERSON, ROGER LEE JASPER, EDNA RUSSELL † JASPER, NATHANIEL MARCELLOUS MORGAN, GAIL ROSETTA SHEPPARD, VIRGINIA ALICE WARNER, MARY LULA
- * Valedictorian
- † Salutatorian

GWCAA STUDENTS HISTORY 1949-1968 from Yearbooks

-
Class	Graduated	8 th Grade Percent
1949	62	No History
1950	51	No History
1951	80	No History
1952	89	179 49%
1953	84	83 101%
1954	88	139 46%
1955	18	No History
1956	56	170 31% 1st. 12 grade Graduating Class
1957	81	172 47%
1958	96	255 37% The Largest Class
1959	94	200 47%
1960	83	203 40%
1961	69	No History
1962	72	No History
1963	83	No History
1964	68	No History
1965	90	228 39%
1966	79	No History
1967	79	No History
1968	11	Integration Students to (CORM)

The Data taken from the yearbooks